New pages added to church history

Former Elk Point area residents Stewart and Becky Peterson show their daughter the pictorial history of the first Elk Point Baptist Church, during Saturday evening's open house which showcased the spacious new facility which was built during the past year to house the church's ever-growing congregation. The Petersons, who now live in Wetaskiwin, were among numerous former members of the congregation who attended the dedication.

Steers, shine and sales abound this coming weekend

BY VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

A busy weekend is coming up in Elk Point. Elk Point 4-H Multi Club is holding their achievement day on Friday, June 2, Elk Point Auto Club's Show and Shine is slated for Saturday, and the Community-wide Garage Sale goes both days.

This will also be the first weekend for the annual Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Shop Local promotion, which starts June 1, and many businesses are featuring special sales to kick off the month-long event.

Nine of the 12 members in Elk Point 4-H Multi Club will be showing their Beef Project animals at the C. G. Baker Memorial Arena on Friday afternoon, beginning at 4 p.m. Senior members Chelsea Schnurer, Bryant Schnurer, Marvin Ockerman and Taylor Legault, Intermediate members Janice Tymofichuk and Robyn Ockerman and Juniors Darren Tymofichuk, Tyler Ockerman and Brinney Heathcote will compete in judging, showmanship and grooming as well as conformation classes for a number of trophies and banners. Robyn and Janice will also show their Heifer project animals, and Robyn will bring along her Cow/Calf project pair. Members involved in the Woodworking and Outdoorsman projects will also have their year's work on display at Achievement Day.

The members competing at Friday's show will also be going to St. Paul on Monday, June 5 for the District Steer Show and Sale.

The draw for the STARS steer, donated by Tags Food and Gas and raised this year by Wyatt Heathcote and his family, with proceeds going to STARS air ambulance, will also be made at the District Show.

Show and Shine

And if you think the steers are sparkling clean, take a look at these vehicles!

Elk Point Auto Club is expecting a good turnout of antique, classic and show vehicles for their annual Show and Shine on Saturday. This year, the show is moving from its traditional Main Street location to the Iron Horse Trail staging area, which parallels Railway Avenue. Entries will start coming in at 10 a.m. and the show goes from noon to 4 p.m. As usual, you can vote for your favorites in a number of classes, with trophies going to those garnering the most votes.

A special feature of this year's show will be a number of vehicles from the Alberta Edsel Club.

Shop until you drop!

Garages fit right in with cars, but a number of garages around town will be filled with sale items instead, for the Community-Wide Garage Sale. Entries were still coming in at press time, so pick up an updated sale list at Elk Point Co-op, Cal's Home Hardware or Friday and Saturday at the Tourist Information Centre, which is being relocated this week to the Iron Horse Trail staging area.

A unique feature of this year's sale, and a great tie-in with the car show theme, is F. G. Miller High School's Car Boot Sale, where vendors will line up their vehicles in the school parking lot and sell their wares out of their trunks or the back of their pickups. (More details on Page 2)

Tables for out-of-town residents, businesses and other vendors have been made available by the Chamber at a flea market in the Seniors' Recreation Centre, which will go Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Four awards for Review in weekly newspapers' excellence competition

BY REVIEW STAFF

Design, photography, good leads and good editorial content are among the factors which have given the Elk Point Review its first-ever awards from the Alberta Weekly Newspapers' General Excellence competition.

The Review won not one, but a total of four awards in this year's competition, going up against six other papers in the Circulation Under 1,299 class, and was one of only three papers among 80 in six circulation categories to win four awards.

The Review's highest placing was for our Sports page, where the paper placed second behind Cardston Temple City Star, with the Vauxhall Advance coming third. The Review placed third for Front Page, behind Vauxhall Advance and Castor Advance, third for Editorial Page behind Castor and Vauxhall, and placed a close third for Best All-Around, with Vauxhall just 20 points ahead and Castor only five points ahead, out of a 1,000 point total.

All papers entering the competition were required to submit their issues for the weeks of May 19 and September 19, 2005. This specification allowed the Review to submit one of the year's most colourful issues, with the September 20 issue drawing comments from the judge which included, "Good, crisp colour, front page design, draws reader inside for more. Good use of colour inside. Very graphic but not too much."

The Review was also the proud recipient of Canadian Community Newspapers Association blue ribbon awards in 1992 and 2005.

Crackdown on ATVs could be costly

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Elk Point RCMP is stepping up enforcement of Elk Point's off-highway vehicle bylaw, after town council received complaints about ATVs roaring up and down alleys and otherwise abusing the privileges granted to them under the bylaw.

"I honestly think people don't know about the bylaw," town manager Myron Goyan told the May 10 meeting of the Community Advisory Policing Committee, "but we do have to have it enforced."

Goyan says he has seen "six- to eight-year-olds ripping down the alleys. We're going to do a campaign, and put the bylaw on the town website with a list of fines. We've been turning our heads to the situation, but it's getting worse."

Town council had been unanimous in their decision to retain the bylaw and not to suspend the use of ATVs in town, but "we do need the regulations followed."

Elk Point's bylaw, passed in 1996, states:

■ The owner shall at all times be held responsible for the actions of the operator with respect to infractions of this bylaw and the Off Highways Vehicle Act.

■ No person shall operate an Off-Highway Vehicle in contravention of the Alberta Off-Highway Vehicle Act.

■ No person shall operate an Off-Highway Vehicle in the town, whether on town or private property, as to unduly disturb residents of the surrounding area.

■ No person shall operate an Off-Highway Vehicle without wearing an approved safety helmet designed for Off-Highway Vehicles.

■ No person shall operate an Off-Highway Vehicle within the Town between the hours of 10:00 p.m. and 9:00 a.m., whether on town or private property.

■ Operators of Off-Highway Vehicles must depart from the town by the shortest route, not in excess of 25 km per hour, observing all traffic regulations, stop signs, crosswalks, etc.

A first offense carries a fine of $35, second offense a fine of $70 and third and subsequent offenses a $100 fine, but that, according to RCMP sergeant Brian Quist, is just the tip of the iceberg.

"Off-highway vehicles that break the bylaw will be seized, and held until all proceedings are completed. This could result in accumulating a huge storage bill, at $20 a day, at times this could exceed the value of the off-highway vehicle. The fines are some of the smaller stuff."

Unlicensed and uninsured ATVs will also be seized.

The provincial Off Highway Vehicle laws come with fines ranging from $57 to $402 for infractions ranging from excessively noisy mufflers to careless operation.

Sgt. Quist says the RCMP members "want people to enjoy their ATVs. We're fortunate to have the trails, and a bylaw which allows people to ride their machines out of town. Where I came from and where I'm going, you can't do that. You have to trailer your machines."

Local RCMP members are scheduled to receive training on quads this week, so Sgt. Quist says "we will definitely have a presence in the area and on the Trail."

Elk Point has "a really good thing going for it," Sgt. Quist says. "If [the privileges in the local bylaw] are abused, it will be lost. It would be a real shame if some spoil it for everyone."

Preteens granted bail

By Rachel de Waal
Staff Writer

Two 12-year-old youths charged with first-degree murder in connection with the death of 38-year-old Frog Lake man were granted bail last week.

Following the judge's announcement in St. Paul provincial court, mothers of each of the youths hugged their supporters.

Seven males were charged after the body of Rocky Moyah was found on the Frog Lake First Nation the afternoon of May 5. The oilfield maintenance worker and father of four died from blunt force trauma according to the autopsy report.

Judge Fraser imposed conditions on the release of each 12-year-old, including a curfew of 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. and an order to report to the RCMP once a week. The youths cannot leave their residences unless accompanied by a guardian and cannot communicate with each other or any of the five other males also charged.

He denied the release of a 16-year-old, while the remaining youths, ages 15 and 16, never applied for bail and will remain in custody at the Edmonton Young Offenders Centre.

All five youths will reappear in court June 13 at 10 a.m. The 18-year-olds also charged with first-degree murder, Aaron Smith and William Berland, will be in St. Paul provincial court June 8 at 9:30 a.m. Berland has also been released on bail.

Crusaders breaking mold of tradition at car boot garage sale

By Denise Bjorkman
F. G. Miller High School

CAR BOOT - a garage sale from your car! A Car what? What a novel concept! No pun intended. The Crusaders are breaking the mold of the traditional garage sale.

On Saturday, June 3, 2006, the weekend of the Elk Point Car Show and the Elk Point Community Garage Sale, the Crusaders are meshing the concepts of the car show and garage sale with a CAR BOOT SALE! This is a garage sale out of the back of our car. A weekly tradition in England (where most people do not have the luxury of a garage due to space limitations) will now be tested in Canada.

So, do you have garage sale items, but not enough to hold a sale in your garage? Then join us on June 3 in the F. G. Miller Parking Lot (if it rains we will set up in the school). Load up your car/truck/van with all your garage sale items. Rent a stall in our parking lot (you can also rent a table) and YOU keep all the proceeds from your car boot!

To help make the event even more successful, we will have popcorn, cotton candy, lemonade, coffee and balloon animals.

All stall fees and food sale proceeds will help us make Café Read-a-Lot (a literacy project happening in our library) become reality.

To book a stall call Denise Bjorkman at 724 3966. See you at the sale!

Open house at Public Works

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Canadian Public Works Week was celebrated in Elk Point last Wednesday with an open house at the public works shop and tours of the water treatment plant.

Public works superintendent Ron Fraess and his staff cooked up hot dogs and served coffee to visitors, as well as showing off equipment used in various public works functions, from road maintenance to extracting roots from sluggish sewer lines.

Some of the visitors also took tours of the water treatment plant, where operator Jay Duffee pointed out the huge clarifier where water is pumped from the 50-million-gallon reservoir.

Coagulant, which makes particles suspended in the raw water clump together, and carbon to remove unpleasant tastes and odour, are added to the water, with the impurities settling to the bottom as sludge.

With 85 percent of impurities removed in the first process, the water is then filtered through gravel and four layers of sand before chlorine and fluoride are added to comply with established standards.

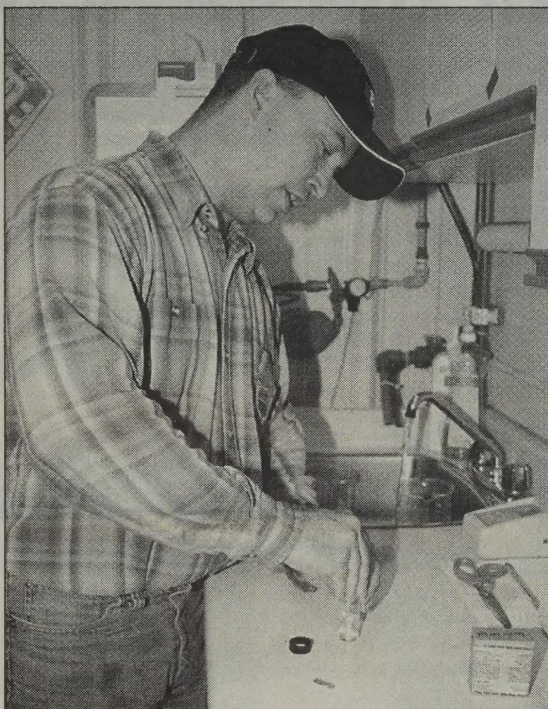

Treated water is stored in huge tanks under the plant before being pumped to the town's underground water 'tower' north of Elk Point for distribution.

Water is tested regularly in-house and samples are sent to Alberta Environment twice weekly.

"If [the samples] aren't good," Duffee says, "they'll shut us down."

Duffee also has another very valid reason for making sure Elk Point's water is as safe as possible.

"My family, my wife and children drink it."

Jay Duffee tests the pH of a sample of incoming water. This is only one of the tests which are required to ensure the quality of Elk Point's water supply.

Achievement Day countdown is on

By DARREN TYMOFICHUK
Elk Point 4-H Multi Club

There are just three days until Achievement Day and we hope to see you there on Friday, June 2. A reminder: the district show and sale is on June 5.

To all beef members, remember to practice your showmanship skills and start washing your calves.

Horse members are testing their skills to complete their levels.

In woodworking, the members are working hard to complete their projects.

In Outdoorsmen, the members will be introduced to trapshooting.

Chelsea Schnurer went to Selections, a camp of senior members, and learned a lot. She also won a trip to Ottawa. She is also practicing her judging skills for her Texas competition.

Our club took part in Highway Cleanup on May 6 and on May 12 we had a fun evening doing neon bowling.

We're all winners

We are told that it takes a community to raise a child. It also takes a community to make an award-winning community newspaper.

Recently, we submitted the May 10, 2005 and September 20 issues of the Review to the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association for the General Excellence competition. These papers contained news of 4-H events, Iron Horse Trail staging area plans, chamber of commerce Shop Local campaign, RCMP reports, a fundraiser for MS, Optimist public speaking, hazardous waste round-up, Lions Club, events at Heinsburg and Elk Point schools, the team roping association, the golf course, a music concert, FCSS information night, school board, town and county council news, Heritage Lodge happenings, Friends of the Forts activities, as well as sports and library news, bingo winners, snippets of history and columns from our MLA and FCSS... even a report of an award for the editor.

In essence, these papers are a cross-section of life in Elk Point, distilled down to 12 pages a week.

The four awards we received for our entry reflect not only the paper itself, but the community it represents - a community filled with activities for all age groups and interests, filled with work and play and volunteering.

The community and the Review - we're a winning team.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Grads, lodges celebrate milestones

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MAY 30 IN...

1986

It was a "Once in a Lifetime" experience for 41 members of F. G. Miller High School's Class of 1986, as they celebrated their graduation, with Glenna Grykuliak as valedictorian and the "Love Theme" from "St. Elmo's Fire" as their processional. For the first time in nearly 30 years, the Elk Point Red Cross shelved their swimming lesson program, due to concerns with liability and insurance coverage.

1991

Ron Barwick was honoured for 65 years of involvement in the BPO Elks Lodge as the local Elks and OORP lodges celebrated three decades of community service. Cars and trucks ranging from Steve Andrishak's 1903 Ford to a 1986 example of artwork on wheels were part of the Elk Point Auto Club's fourth annual Show and Shine.

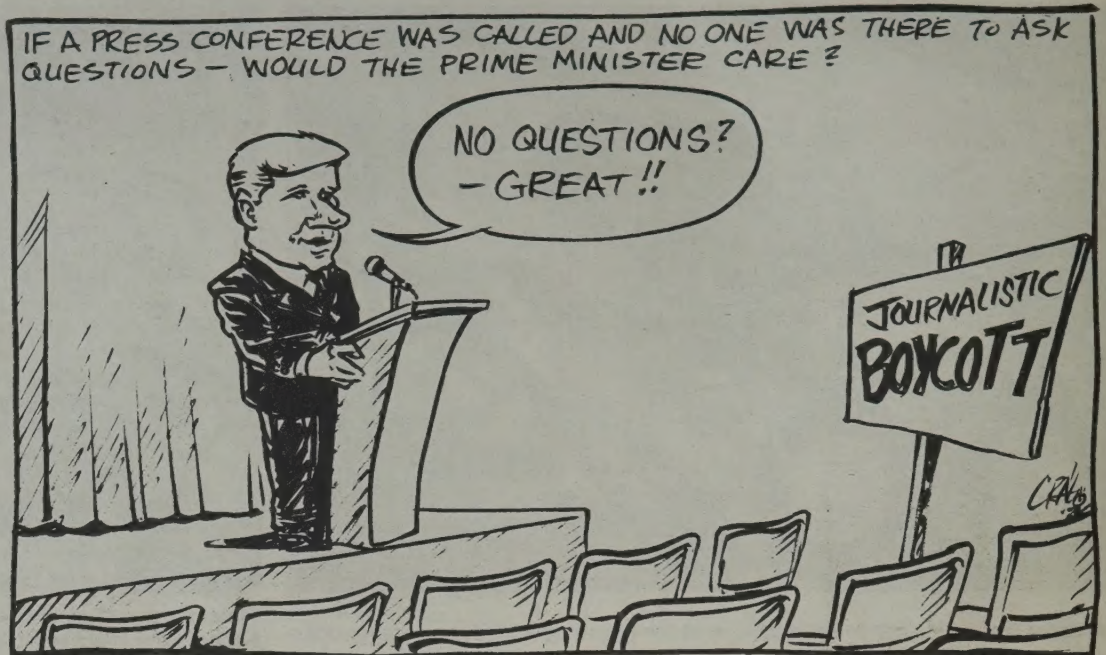

1996

St. Paul slowpitchers, Tuu Times made it two championships in a row at the 10th annual Jan Frisby Memorial Ball tournament hosted by Elk Point and District Lions Club. Frog Lake Napewaew School's three Grade 12 grads, Brenda Couston, Steven Quinney and Cherie Stanley, shared the valedictory honours as they addressed a packed crowd of proud families and friends.

2001

Elk Point Elks and OORP lodges honoured charter members Past District Deputy Elmer Bjornstad, Past District Deputy Mary Bochon, Past Honoured Royal Lady Mary Kryvenchuk and Lady Niki Riemer as the lodges marked their 40th anniversary. Elk Point explored new tourism opportunities with a SWOT analysis facilitated by Tammy Bodnar of REACH Corporation.

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

GUEST COLUMN

In the days of 'let's plant'

The May 21 weekend is over and it is the last week of May, so most gardeners are finishing planting or almost finished. The weather has been the best if you planted before the rain or just after. Irregardless, gardening weather - whatever it is - gives the gardener feelings of 'let's plant' and it gives all plants the opportunity to determine their unique hardiness.

Speaking of hardiness, in the book, "Chicken Soup for the Gardener's Soul," There is a cute story as told by Susan Gilman King with the title, "A Hard Act to Follow." She begins the story by mentioning she purchased a yellow rosebush for her mom for Mother's Day. When she presented it to her mom, she loved it. Her mom and dad planted it right next to the lamppost out in front of the house, a place of honour where everyone passing by could admire it. After a couple of weeks, the rosebush was growing out nicely - all lush and green. Mom asked dad if he had any fertilizer. "There's an open bag of 5-10-5 in the garage," he replied. Mom found it and sprinkled a good handful around her rosebush and watered it well. At first, Mom's rosebush thrived. But after a few weeks of her fertilizer regimen, it started to turn yellow and lose leaves. Eventually, to her dismay, it up and died. Dad knew how much she loved that rosebush. "I'll find you another one to replace it," He promised. "First, though, I'd better dig up the dead bush and get the spot ready for the replacement."

from the FCSS desk

He got his shovel from the garage and started to dig when all of a sudden, "Clang!" Hmm, it must've been a rock that killed it, he thought. He kept digging... and digging. He dug around and around the bush to free the rock. But the rock got bigger and bigger until, finally, he had to get a crowbar to help get this huge mass out! He examined it more closely and noticed that the roots were actually going into the rock!

"What the heck id she do?" he muttered. Dad marched into the house and called out, "Ma, what did you sprinkle around the rosebush?"

"The fertilizer you told me to uses!" she said innocently.

"Show me," he said. They walked out to the garage and Mom showed Dad the bag of fertilizer she had been using. Well, I think the whole entire neighbourhood heard Dad burst out laughing. Back then, 5-10-5 was a grey, granular mix and not multicoloured like it is today. There was also another open bag in the garage - a bag of cement. Because she hadn't read the label, all along Mom had been using the wrong bag. She'd been adding cement to the soil, watering it in - and lovingly cementing her rosebush right to death! Now that is a hard rock gardening story!

Speaking of rocks, apparently when Nelson Mandela was in prison, he asked the authorities for permission to start a garden in the courtyard. For years, they refused without offering a reason. But eventually they relented, and he was able to cut out a small garden on a narrow patch of earth against the far wall. The soil in the courtyard was dry and rocky. The courtyard had been constructed over a landfill, and in order to start his garden, he had to excavate a great many rocks to allow the plants room to grow. The authorities supplied him with seeds. He initially planted tomatoes, chilies and onions - hardy plants that did not require rich earth or constant care. The early harvests were poor, but they soon improved. He concludes his story by stating, "to plant a seed, watch it grow, to tend it and then harvest it, offered a simple but enduring satisfaction. The sense of being the custodian of this small patch of earth offered a small taste of freedom." From this story I am sure that all gardeners will agree with what Nelson Mandela said. So to all gardeners - read the labels, and best wishes for a great gardening season.

Not everyone ecstatic

To the Editor:

RE: "Local resident 'ecstatic' about changes to gun registry" - May 23, 2006

If anybody is ecstatic about the government's announcement, it must be the anti-gun Liberals. This announcement has done nothing for the average gun-owner. Buying a new firearm still requires registration. Selling a gun to anybody else still requires registration. Nothing has changed.

The amnesty merely moves forward another deadline for guns to be registered.

Before MP Brian Storseth gets a sore arm from patting himself on the back, I'd like him to explain how this "action we are taking will remove the burden of the registry from our law abiding gun owners." Until legislation is passed to repeal the ridiculous registry, the promises of the Conservative party in this matter remain unfulfilled.

Ladies Auxiliary rewards long service

By BERNICE CAPJACK
President

It was a special event night for the Elk Point Hospital Ladies Auxiliary on Monday, May 22 as Violet McFadyen and Elsie Oryschuk, who are charter members, were presented with lifetime Auxiliary pins for 30 years of service. Lois Sharek was presented with a pin for 29 years, and Myrna Fox for 10 years. Members that were not present but will receive pins are Gunnie Nelson (29 years), Gloria Lecopoy (28 years), Agnes Moroziuk (24 years), Hughie Krucik (21 years) and Carolyn Onusko (10 years).

We were pleased to have Lyn Young join the Auxiliary.

Father's Day favours will be given to the men living in the Extended Care and any in the hospital.

Approximately seven members will attend the Appreciation Barbecue put on by the Aspen Regional Health Authority on June 6.

Members decided to put a float in the Canada Day parade this year, and plans are being made on getting this ready.

The next meeting will be held on June 26 at the hospital at 7:00 p.m. We always welcome new members. Volunteer your time for a worthy cause.

County of St. Paul No. 19 AGRICULTURAL SERVICE BOARD 2006 ROADSIDE SPRAYING PROGRAM

The County of St. Paul No. 19 Agricultural Service Board will be starting their 2006 Roadside Spraying Program in the month of June. This program is in place to control the spread of Noxious Weeds and Brush along Municipal Road Allowances.

If for any reason, you do not want the road allowance along your property sprayed, you must sign a "No Spray Policy Agreement" with the County and also post the areas you do not want sprayed. The Policy states that the landowners that do not want the road allowances sprayed will be responsible for the control of all Noxious Weeds and Brush within that area.

The No Spray Policy Agreements and the Do Not Spray Signs are available at the County Office.

Road allowances along sensitive crops will not be sprayed until a later date. For more information, please contact Jeremy Robinson at 645-3006.

Playschool grads celebrate fun year

"We learned lots, we played lots and we had lots of fun," teacher Debbie Wood said as she presented graduation certificates to the 2006 graduates of Jack and Jill Playschool at a pair of celebrations this week. "It has been an absolute pleasure to teach all your children."

Tuesday's graduation for the morning class was held at the Elk Point Recreation Park, where teacher Debbie Woods handed out certificates to Tammy Roberts, Abby Baker, Kaiden Evans-Anderson, Justin Bzowy, Sharmayne Hallwachs, Coleton Gusnowski, Zachary McFarlane, Colby McQuinn, Dustin Pinder, Catherine Nofall, Connor Popiel, Tessa Pindroch and Carson Vogel.

A rainy Thursday morning saw the afternoon class graduation moved to the United Church hall, where Ms Wood presented certificates to Nicole Bristow, Dustin Pankiw, Graham Stuparyk, Darien Rybchinski, Keana Radcliffe, Fern Ockerman, Michael Habiak, Kassy Smith, Sam Strahl, Carson Rogers, Mickail Pilisko, Hunter Nelson and Maci Drobot.

Ms Wood and the afternoon group model their new ball caps, souvenirs of their playschool year which students from both groups can enjoy all summer long.

"See what we did, Teacher?" asked the playschool students as they proudly showed the artwork they had added to a denim quilt created for her as a long-lasting reminder of the Classes of 2005-06. Playschool grandmother Ruth Vogel created the quilt.

Crusaders International crusade to educate

Denise Bjorkman of F. G. Miller High School and Al Piesinger of B & R Eckels Transport get the shipment ready for transport.

By DENISE BJORKMAN

F. G. Miller High School

The Crusaders have been really busy boxing up our old textbooks in a venture that was beneficial for both the Crusaders and third world children. CSBE (Canadian School Book Exchange), a company in Mississauga, Ontario, takes donations for educating developing nations. Textbooks that are no longer usable in Canada are either provided to organizations that can find a new home for these resources abroad or properly recycled. CSBE has worked with various charitable organizations to send textbooks to Haiti, Grenada, Kenya, Ghana, India, South Africa, Canada (Governor General's Program). To date they have donated over 250,000 textbooks.

Our venture to help others was not completed alone. Two trucking companies stepped up to join the crusade in educating children in the developing world. Al Piesinger from B&R Eckel's Transport and Don Galenzocki from Reimer's Trucking became honorary Crusaders and donated all the transportation fees for this worthy project. So, on May 17, 2006, some of the new Students' Union Executive, Crusaders International members, volunteers and Mrs. Bjorkman loaded 25 boxes of textbooks on to the B & R's truck in hopes that this donation will help educate less fortunate children.

B&R Eckel's Transport and Reimer's Express, our two gracious partners, we salute you with swords held high and shields abreast.

Crusaders International members and other volunteers loaded up 25 boxes of textbooks bound for third world children.

Ten times for Tuu Times

St. Paul's Tuu Times made it seven A Side wins in a row and at least 10 wins in the 20-year history of the Jan Frisby Memorial Slowpitch tournament hosted by Elk Point and District Lions Club. Jeanette Frisby, mother of the late Jan Frisby, presents the trophy to the many-time winners after their five-inning runaway over the MJS team from Lac La Biche. The Swamp Donkeys took third prize money and WHG placed fourth.

Another familiar name on the Jan Frisby Memorial roster is the Nahawkahydes from Edmonton. They defeated the local Yoho team to win the trophy presented by Jeanette Frisby. A total of 16 teams took part in the two-day tournament, which raises money for cancer research.

FG the place to be

By DENISE BJORKMAN
F. G. Miller High School

Well-being is important to the Crusaders, so Mrs. Generoux spearheaded this year's Wellness Day for our junior high students. In the morning, students participated in presentations by alumni Leanne Wilson, John Braga and Josh Boyko. The key topics discussed were a passion for learning, positive life choices, and accomplishing goals. The second half of the morning students experienced active living/cultural presentations in the form of music by Mr. Anderson and Mr. Price while Crusader Blake Desjarlais showed us his expertise on the dance floor with the Red River Jig. Hannah and Madeline Ludlage sparked with their hip hop dancing routines and the Metelytsia Senior Dance Troupe (Andrea Lee, Yolanda Kinjerski, Laryssa Cochrane and Justyne Wozniak) dazzled us with their rhythmic ribbon dance.

We all had an awesome lunch of bison stew, bannock, jello and a juice box. This delicious lunch was created by Mrs. McGilvery and the Home Ec. 9 students who did the prep work, and sponsored by Elk Point Co-op (juice boxes) and Lakeland Meat Processors (bison).

After lunch, Crusaders had the option of participating in karaoke, slo-pitch, flag-football, sock-hop, or Dance Dance Revolution mats. Our senior Crusader volunteers Harley-Ray Delorme, Devin Quinney, Randy Merkel and Ryan Mudryk did an excellent job helping out with slo-pitch and flag football.

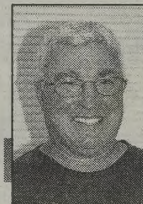

The hardest-fought final was in the B Side, where G Unit, shown accepting the trophy from Jeanette Frisby, went into an eighth inning against the local Sky Chiefs to determine the win. G Unit slammed home six runs compared to one for the home team to cinch the victory.

Sox still looking for a win

The Sox are like a diamond in the rough. They have potential, but they still need a lot of polish. This past weekend they played four games at South Jasper Place in Edmonton, losing all four, but all were fairly close, at least for a while.

Some of the high lights from the weekend: Ryan "Little M" MacDonald hitting a triple, Brett Young-hans with a nice double to center field, Theron Poitras, "JJ" Jerin Bezpalko and Brad Swedgan all with some nice base hits, first baseman "Tater" Jensen pounding out a number of hits and some good stretches at first to catch the ball, and Corbin Poitras with a nice diving catch at center field. Dylon Loughran, a bantam age-player making his debut with the Sox, did a good job as shortstop. Ryan "Little M" MacDonald and Tyler Loughran shared most of the pitching duties, Sonny Benson also getting some action on the hill. And a correction on last week's picture in the paper, that was Sonny Benson taking off for first base, not "Tater" Jensen as stated. I just got new glasses, so I'm still a little fuzzy seeing things some times.

This past month was the toughest for the Sox, having to play all the top teams in the northeast part of the province. Next week they will be getting re-tied for June and it should become a little easier for them.

"Let's go, Oilers!" Congratulations to all you Oiler fans out there. Four more wins and they will drink from the cup. And they deserve it; the whole team has played so well, although at one point in last Thursday night's game, when they lost in Edmonton to the Ducks, I thought that was seeing things, it looked like the Leafs on the ice, not the Oilers! Even though I won't be flying the Oilers flag on my truck (sorry, but I just can't change my allegiance to the Leafs) I'm jumping on the Oiler's bandwagon for the final run. Hey, anyone know where I can score some tickets?

And now for the K.A. Campbell's quote of the week: "Baseball is the very symbol, the outward and visible expression of the drive and push and rush and struggle of the raging, tearing, booming nineteenth century." Last week's answer to: "Baseball's unique possession, the real source of our strength, is the fan's memory of the times his daddy took him to the game to see the great players of his youth." - Bill Veeck Do you have any scoops? Lakeland adventure

Five teams made up of four participants each took part in Lakeland College's first-ever Adventure Race on Saturday. A team from Calgary, one from Wainwright and three teams from Canmore set off from Heinsburg to travel the Iron Horse Trail on bicycles. They took a side trip up the hill from the Middle Creek rest area, and parked their bicycles to cross the highway (above) and orienteer on foot in Whitney Lakes Provincial Park. They later retraced their route to the Trail and rode west to a point near the Canadian Salt plant, where they launched canoes for the trip back to Heinsburg. The race was organized by Sherri Heller, Adventure Tourism instructor at Lakeland College, Vermilion, who said she was pleased with the turnout. "It's an amazing day and ideal conditions for the race. I'm grateful that we have this wonderful country right in our backyard." Heller hopes the race will encourage participants to think about adventure tourism as a career.

Elk Point Baptist congregation dedicates roomy new home

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

It was a weekend of celebration for the congregation of Elk Point Baptist Church, as they dedicated their new church to the service of the community.

Tours of the facility were offered Saturday evening, with church members showing visitors the spacious sanctuary, a pleasant "fire-side room" with fireplace where prayer meetings, showers and smaller gatherings are held, a photocopying room and a large central foyer.

The former church building has been renovated into offices for the pastor and assistant pastor, a large, bright nursery, washrooms and coat room.

On the lower floor, the former dining hall has become a teen centre with pool and air hockey tables, its original use shifted to the huge area under the new sanctuary, which has ample space to seat at least 250 diners, and has a roomy kitchen with a large island and ample storage space.

The original three Sunday school rooms remain in place, charmingly decorated to suit each age group.

Following the tours, a good crowd enjoyed a praise and worship service and refreshments.

The new sanctuary was almost filled to capacity on Sunday for the dedication ceremony.

Trip of the Month

INFORMATION SUBMITTED

Elk Point Community Lions have announced the May winners in their Trip of the Month Club. Rene Hebert was the lucky winner of the Alaska cruise, while Sheri Schmitt and Steve and Carolyn Seniek were the winners of the two $100 cash prizes. Congratulations.

Pioneer Circle bingo

May 22, 2006

Dina Leaf $110, Muriel Cardinal $49, Lorna Best $60, Florence Demchuk $20, Hazel Hannah $20, Christie Desjarlais $25, Lillian Ewasiuk $25, Helga Vaughan $5, Bernice Bykowski $7, Annie Zayac $20, Phyllis Zarowny $20, Sophie Schmidt $4, Bernice Bykowski $12, Pearl Slykwa $26, Vicky Sheplaw $8, Percy Best $8, Sophie Schmidt $8, Mary Rose Piesinger $8.

The church's music team, with Cliff and Lesley Quist on guitars, Jill Goulet on keyboard, Shane Quist on drums, Brian Quist on violin, Sid Quist on steel guitar and Kerry Anderson, provided welcoming music, while vocalists Sherry Oszust, Rick Peters and Darren Pilisko led the singing.

Peters welcomed the congregation, saying, "God has been so very good to us. Many years of rejoicing have gone into what is happening this morning." He welcomed "old friends, and those with us for the first time today."

Mayor Parrish Tung brought greetings from the Town of Elk Point before Margaret Modin outlined the history of the Baptist Church in Elk Point.

Cliff Quist, who had served as construction foreman for the 10-month building project, said it was "an exciting day," and told of the countless volunteer hours that had been put into the project along with the work of the various contractors and subtrades.

Pastor Ted Clarke, who first brought Baptist Church services to Elk Point in 1981, said that "all through the history of this church, it has been the Lord working. God has been faithful to you in the past and will be in the future."

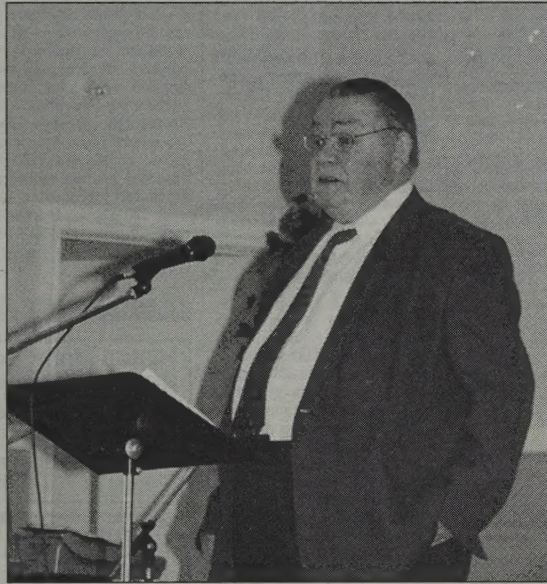

Pastor John McGregor, who was instrumental in building the original church and who left his Elk Point ministry in 1988, told the congregation, "What a wonderful job you have done." He recalled the early days, and said, "when we came to Elk Point, we didn't know what we were doing, but He did. God has poured out his grace on this community."

Pastor Jim MacLellan offered a message based on three brief Bible texts: Have faith in God; The Lord has helped us; and "The Lord will provide; before leading the congregation in a brief ceremony of dedication for the new church.

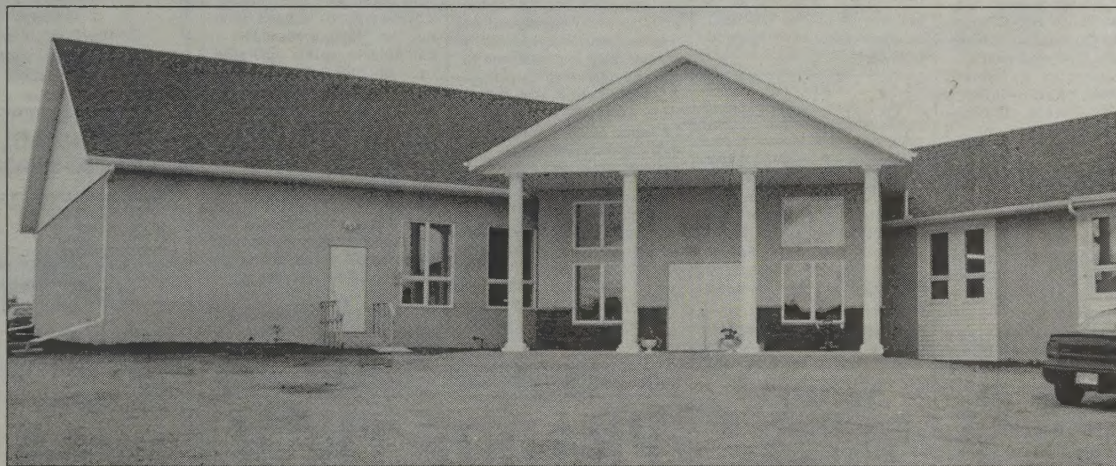

Pastor John McGregor offered an uplifting message of hope and faith.

Pastor Ted Clarke brought Baptist worship to Elk Point in 1981, and brought along a young assistant pastor named John McGregor.

Chereth Quist shows Gabe Bayduza the light and bright nursery area which is located in the former church area. Her daughter Lesley decorated the room.

Graceful pillars flank the doors of the new Elk Point Baptist Church, with the original church stretching to the right of the entry and the new portion on the right.

FG the place to be

By DENISE BJORKMAN
F. G. Miller High School

Mothers' Day Tea - Again, Mother Gulayec has set a shining example for all her Crusader wards. On Monday, May 15, the gym was transformed into a gigantic tea house that sparkled with candlelight. Mrs. Bintz's art students provided the splashes of color in their 2 and 3 dimensional art projects. Mr. Kry's operated the sound system while some of our musical Crusaders entertained the crowd. We even had a second performance from the Ludlage Girls (Hannah and Madeline) who hip-hopped their way into our hearts.

All the mothers in attendance received a candle and were served a beverage by their Crusader children. Staff provided the goodies for the Crusaders and their moms. Mrs. Gulayec made sure our mothers had the opportunity to win one of the door prizes available. It was, in all, a beautiful event that provided a venue for Moms and Crusaders to enjoy a few hours of "together time".

Sound Dragons - With a mighty roar Sound Dragons (F. G. Miller's Rock Concert) landed in the Crusader gym. Mr. Bjorkman guided the Crusaders in steering the Dragons on stage. Mr. Rob Walker controlled the Dragons' roar and provided light, sound and smoke that gave our Dragons their fierce appearance and sound.

There were other armies in attendance. Mochteerah (with alumni Josh Boyko, Colin Ference, Nicholas Myshaniuk with Pat Laporte) filled the stage with their awesome sound. This year's event contained a bonus performance from Mr. Clint McKendrick who dazzled us with his ultra-fast guitar genius.

The Crusaders really appreciated our guest performers and participants who gave up a day's work to make the Sound Dragons Rock Concert awesome. Plus, the number of musicians was on the rise. We saw first time performers and seasoned pros to the stage. Our performers were: Adrian MacKinnon, Cale Walker, Mr. Bjorkman, Karly Shankowski, Ryan Mudryk, Randy Merkel, Yonas Rohner, Kelsey Slywka, Sage Lowry, Emily Mosley, Eric Mosley, Mr. Burke, Alex Buck, Oliver Buck, Warren Jurak, and Lisa Braga who gave it their all on stage.

CAREER OPPORTUNITY PARTSPERSON

Would you like to become a part of the support team to the world's leader in Agricultural machinery? Would you like to earn above average wages and work in a rewarding team environment utilizing the latest technological tools, that the parts field can provide? If you answered yes to these questions, you could be the team member that we're looking for.

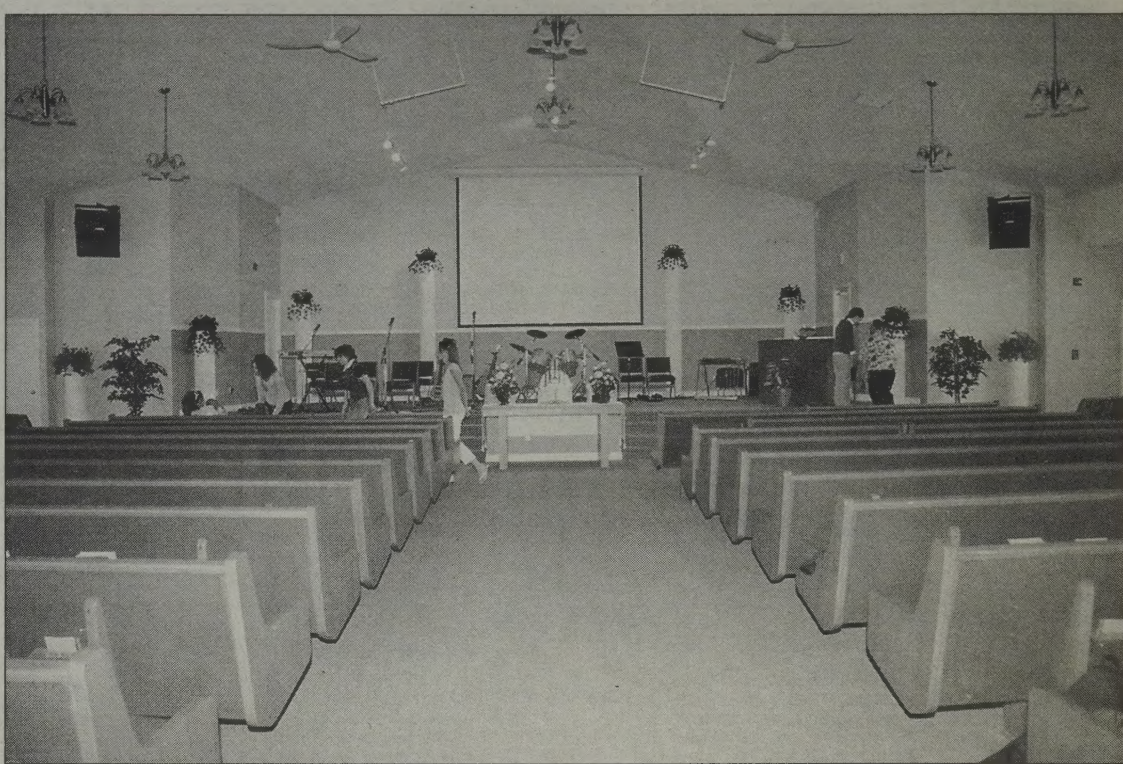

We are presently in need of an experienced Partsperson: John Deere experience is not necessary but would be a definite asset.

Vermilion Lloydminster St. Paul

Old friends, new sanctuary

Pastor John McGregor meets a new generation of churchgoers at the Saturday evening open house, as Becky Peterson introduces her daughter, left. Above, a number of visitors took the opportunity to view the spacious new facility, with its large sanctuary with a capacity of approximately 300 worshippers. Comfortable new chairs flank the familiar upholstered pews moved from the original church to increase the seating. The front of the church features eight graceful columns handcrafted by Sid and Rosemarie Quist. A large screen operated by remote control drops down to receive power point presentations, including the words for responsive readings and gospel music.
